BIHAR GOVT. INTERNS CONGRESS LEADERS

ALLEGED 'OPEN PREPARATION FOR ANOTHER STRUGGLE'

DEPUTY SPEAKER OF ASSEMBLY ARRESTED

Two Allahabad Students Expelled For Active Part In Independence Day Functions

PATNA, Jan. 28. The Government of Bihar have, under the Restriction and Detention Ordinance, 1944, issued orders asking the following persons to remain within the limits of their home villages:

Mr. Srikrishna Sinha, ex-Premier, Bihar, Mr. Anugraha Narayan Sinha, ex-Finance Minister, Prof. Abdul Bari, Deputy Speaker, Bihar Legislative Assembly, Mr. Murali Manohar Prasad, Editor, "Searchlight", and Mr. Prajapati Misra.

GOVERNMENT'S CAUSE FOR ACTION

Announcing this in a communique, Government refer to the recent meeting of Congress workers of the Province when a resolution was moved by Mr. Prajapati Misra appointing an Advisory Committee to implement the "Constructive Programme."

While moving the resolution, the Communique adds, Mr. Misra referred to the disturbances of 1942 and observed that:

"The present war is an imperialist war and not a people's war." Mr. Misra added: "Mahatma Gandhi's contemplated mass movement remains to be started and a short, swift but non-violent struggle is yet to be urged."

"These observations and the tone of other speeches at the meeting were calculated to prepare the ground for another movement to subvert a movement which is designed this time to be short and swift, though non-violent."

"The Government cannot and will not tolerate the open preparation for another struggle which must inevitably lead to violence and bloodshed despite expressed intentions that it will be non-violent. No one can permit the development of a situation which may again threaten to interfere with the efficient prosecution of the war at its critical stage of world struggle. Hence Government served the internment orders on the above persons."—A.P.

DEPUTY SPEAKER ARRESTED

PATNA, Jan. 28. Prof. Abdul Bari, Deputy Speaker of the Bihar Assembly, was arrested early this morning at his residence in Patna. The arrest, it is understood, was made under the Restriction and Detention Ordinance.—A.P.

TWO STUDENTS EXPELLED

ALLAHABAD, Jan. 28. It is learnt that on account of taking active part in the Independence Day celebrations in Daraganj High School two students have been expelled by the headmaster.—United Press.

Two Shot Dead By Dacoits

SHAHJAHANPUR, Jan. 28. Dacoits shot two persons dead and injured a few more when challenged by the inmates of a house in Shahjahanpur while attempting to burglarize it. The house of a rich Marwari in Biven Jogra was being looted by a gang of dacoits who by overpowering a solitary inmate made good their escape with property worth about Rs. 15,000.—United Press.

ROOT OF HEALTH PROBLEM

Relief Must Continue Till Impecuniousness Ends

CALCUTTA, Jan. 28. Mr. S. A. Brelvi, replying on behalf of members of the A.I.N.E.C. at a reception given by the Bengal Medical Relief Committee last night, said that it was very difficult to solve the health problem until the economic problem of the country had been solved and poverty abolished. He also stated that the economic problem could not be solved until the political problem had been solved.

He added that it was the paramount duty of the State to look after the health of the people but until that state of affairs was reached, it was their duty to render the help that lay in their power. Mr. Brelvi assured the Committee that the Government would do everything possible to make known to the rest of India the good work the Committee had been doing and the need for its continuance.

The Chairman of the Committee, Dr. B. C. Roy gave an account of the medical relief organised by them and the experience and lessons learned from relief work carried on in Bengal in the rural areas. The Committee, he said, had organised about 160 medical centres, each manned by a Doctor, a compounder, a nurse and some volunteers, in different parts of the province at an average cost of Rs. 700 per month per centre.—A.P.

Allied Patrols Contact

ATHENS, Jan. 28. One thousand and three British prisoners of war and 613 Greek civilian hostages released by ELAS under the truce terms arrived at Piraeus yesterday.—Reuter.

Japs Considering Complete Pacific Withdrawal?

LONDON, Jan. 28. The political and military situation in Japan is growing more critical.

Following the recent hints of antagonism among members of the Japanese War Cabinet, reports reaching London tell of "extreme uneasiness" in Tokyo over Japanese reverses in Burma and the Philippines and Super-Fortresses raids on Japan.

Difficulty of getting supply and transport ships through the treacherous Japanese garrison is adding to Tokyo's fears.

The possibility of a general Japanese withdrawal to the northern sphere—Japan, Korea, Manchukuo and northern China—is believed to have been discussed, says Globe's military correspondent.—Globe.

CHESTER NIMITZ ADVANCES

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. A Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent reports today from Pacific Fleet Headquarters that the whereabouts of the new headquarters of Admiral Chester Nimitz, Commander-in-Chief Independence Day, say reports received here.—United Press.

No Internment Of G. M. Syed KARACHI, Jan. 28. Mr. S. Ridley, Chief Secretary to the Government of Sind, at a press conference said that there was no truth in the report that an order for the internment of Mr. G. M. Syed, President of the Provincial Muslim League, had been issued by the Government.

He also said that about 3,000 Hindus were detained under the Detention Restriction Ordinance besides 23 Congressmen.—United Press.

HUNGER MARCH IN PETLAD

(From Our Correspondent) AHMEDABAD, Jan. 28. About hundred hungry men of surrounding villages of Petlad marched on Petlad administrator's office with slogans of "Give us food. We are hungry since three days."

The administrator gave them food and then the crowd dispersed, says a message from Baroda.

Hindu-Muslim Meeting At Indore

(From A Correspondent) INDORE CITY, Jan. 28. Unprecedented scenes of communal unity were witnessed in connection with Independence Day celebrations at Indore. The Congress Hindu-Muslim Unity Board organised an Urdu Mushayra with the help of local Basmadari under the chairmanship of Nabob Matulilul Sahob Wasik. The audience was unimaginably huge and consisted of as many Hindus as Muslims. Hundreds had to return because of the shortage of accommodation.

The President in his speech said Pakistan was the result of lack of confidence of the communities in each other. If confidence was created there would be no Pakistan.

13 KILLED IN JODHPUR

NEW DELHI, Jan. 28. Thirteen people were killed and 27 injured on January 22, during a military demonstration at Jodhpur. City which formed part of the Indian Armoured Corps' recruiting drive in Jodhpur State, says a Press 'Communique'.

The uses of three-inch mortars were being demonstrated. Two smoke bombs had been fired from one mortar into the target area. The recoil from the second bomb caused the base-plate to tilt back, the trajectory to be altered, and the range to be shortened.

The third bomb fell among spectators and exploded. Casualties were immediately removed to nearby hospitals.—A.P.

Muslim Majlis Chief's

Mission For South India

ALLAHABAD, Jan. 28. Babu Purushottamdas Tandon, Speaker of the U. P. Legislative Assembly, and Mr. Khwaja, President of the All-India Muslim Majlis, will shortly undertake a tour to organise branches of the Majlis in Bombay, Madras and other parts of South India.

So far branches have been organised in Bengal, U. P. and Bihar. In an interview to the "United Press" Mr. Khwaja stated: "The response from the provinces where Muslims are in a minority has been very encouraging."

It is learnt that the next session of the Majlis will be held either in Delhi or Bihar in April.—United Press.

Sugar Mill Workers On Strike

KOLHAPUR, Jan. 28. Nearly 500 workers of the Kolhapur Sugar Mills have gone on strike after giving due notice to the Labour Officer. The Industrial Disputes Ordinance has been applied to the Sugar Mills and an order under Sec. 14 of I.D.A.C. has been promulgated.—United Press.

ALLIED ADVANCE IN BURMA CONTINUES

ALFSEA, ADV. HQS., Jan. 28. Today's S.E.A.C. Communique says: "FOURTH ARMY: Our troops have made progress south-east of Monywa, where the road has now been cleared for supplies."

The enemy is still holding a small bridgehead on the outskirts of Kabwet village, west of the Irrawaddy. West African troops have completed the occupation of Myinghaung. Mopping up continues in the area between Myinghaung and the Lemo river.

On Ramree our advance continues. NORTHERN COMBAT AREA: In the sector of the First Chinese Army and Mars Task Force mopping up of Japanese groups continued yesterday. Patrols of the Fifth Chinese division operated on the Shweli near Molo.

The thirty-sixth British Division troops were south of Baha on both banks of the Shweli, and in the Twinnage area.

In an operation conducted by the Royal Navy a force of Royal Marines landed on the East Indies Fleet landed on Cheduba Island on the morning of January 28. The force was carried to begin the campaign from which they transferred to land craft for the assault on the beaches.

Slight opposition was met by the Royal Marines when they landed, but they were soon masters of the island and are rapidly clearing the island of the enemy.

Owing to an ambiguity in yesterday's Communique the landing on Cheduba Island has been erroneously attributed to troops of the Fifteenth Indian Corps.

Half Of Ramree In Allied Hands ADV. HQ. ALFSEA, Jan. 28. Half of Ramree Island is now in the hands of the Fifteenth Indian Corps. The Communique says: "The Twenty-sixth Indian Division has reached Yambank Chaung, a tidal watercourse, across the island about half way down its length and the Japanese are still falling back."

"Roosevelt's Silence Incredible"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. Failure of the United States to clarify its attitude towards India was vigorously criticised by Mrs. Pandit on arrival here to-day from New York.

"India has been greatly disappointed in America," she told Reuter. "We certainly looked to the United States to come out with some sort of a statement regarding India's position."

She declared: "For one thing, America should definitely say that the Congress party executive should be released from prison immediately."

After a few days' stay here, Mrs. Pandit is going to New York and Boston to begin a nationwide tour expected to last approximately six weeks. This afternoon, she is being given a reception by the National Congress for India Freedom and on Monday night, she will be guest of honour at an India Independence Day meeting here.—Reuter.

ZHUKOV'S FORCES PASS "100-MILES-TO-BERLIN" MARK?

FIERCE BATTLES IN POZNAN STREETS

Reds Reach "Administrative Area" Of Koenigsberg: Germans Firing Whole Sections Of City

MOSCOW, (Sunday).

House-to-house battles are to-day raging in the outskirts of Koenigsberg cables Reuter's Special Correspondent. Big Soviet forces are now attempting to trap the garrison by a thrust to the sea south-west of the city.

A later message says Germans are firing whole sections of the city, while Ernst Von Hammer, German News Agency Commentator says the Reds have reached the "Administrative area" of Koenigsberg.

BATTLE IN POZNAN STREETS

On Marshal Zhukov's front, Poznan, where the German garrison is now fighting out its last hours, is being left deep in the Soviet rear, as Russian tanks crash nearer to Berlin. Marshal Zhukov's advanced guard is believed to have reached the Reich border, north and north-west of Poznan, while further south his forces thrusting on with undiminished speed are expected to pass the "100 miles to Berlin" mark before to-night.

A later Moscow message says battle has moved into the streets of Poznan.

WICKERSCHWEIER REACHED

From Reuter's Special Correspondent with the Sixth Army Group on the Rhine front Jan. 28.

Troops advancing on Colmar, key city in the German pocket this side of the Rhine, have reached Wickerschweier, beside the Colmar Canal, which runs north-east of the city and connects with the Rhine 10 miles away.

POZNAN STREETS: Reuter's Special Correspondent Moscow, Jan. 28. Battle has moved into the streets of Poznan.

"The 'pravda' said: 'The Germans are offering stubborn resistance inside the city.'"

Columns of smoke are rising in front of the Soviet masters of Poznan, their grip on Koenigsberg. It is believed that the Germans are firing whole sections of the city.

LONDON, Jan. 28. The German News Agency Military Commentator, Ernst von Hammer, to-day, reported that Soviet tanks entered Katowice, an important centre in Polish upper Silesia, and Butzen, a big industrial town in Germany.

The German radio today reported: "Thirty-five Soviet divisions and five Armoured Corps are hurling their attacks, against German positions in Upper Silesia. Along the 90-mile front the enemy made several dozen attempts to cross the Oder, which is completely frozen at many points."

NEARBY KOENIGSBERG: Ernst von Hammer reported that the Red Army had reached "the administrative area" of Koenigsberg. He added: "The Russians have thrown new forces into the battle of Upper Silesia and the situation has become much tenser during the last 24 hours. In both the towns heavy street fighting is now in progress."

"In Marienburg on the frontier Royal Marines when they landed, but they were soon masters of the island and are rapidly clearing the island of the enemy."

Owing to an ambiguity in yesterday's Communique the landing on Cheduba Island has been erroneously attributed to troops of the Fifteenth Indian Corps.

Half Of Ramree In Allied Hands ADV. HQ. ALFSEA, Jan. 28. Half of Ramree Island is now in the hands of the Fifteenth Indian Corps. The Communique says: "The Twenty-sixth Indian Division has reached Yambank Chaung, a tidal watercourse, across the island about half way down its length and the Japanese are still falling back."

He said a very large fund had been raised, called the Kasturba Memorial Fund, and placed at the disposal of the Government for any other serious attempt on the Muslims and their solidarity. The result of such moves, he said, would be to make the Muslims feel that of the mass contact movement.

RELIGION & NATIONALISM

The Nawabzada then dealt with the political situation, starting with reference to communal unity. In answer to a question asked by a member when a Hindu talked of the United Front, he said that the Muslims alone thought the Muslims had more importance to their leaders. Congress, he said, was making a "sinister move" under the name of constructive programme; it would not be able to take Muslims away from the Muslims.

Dr. Abbas Rahman, Chairman of the Reception Committee, in his address addressed the League of the loyalty of Muslims and the Muslim truce of the north. He said that the Muslims were prepared to undergo trials and sufferings and make any sacrifices that might be demanded of them for the achievement of their goal.

Nawab Siddiqulhaq, holding a League flag said that the Quaid-e-Azam had given the Muslims an ideal plan for the future and that the Muslims had the ability of keeping the flag flying for the achievement of their goal.

Bombay's Colossal 468: Baroda's Strastous Start

BARODA, Jan. 28
Bombay were all out for 468 (Modi not out 245, Palwankar out 78) against Baroda in the East Zone final of the Ranji Trophy tournament. Baroda in their first innings scored 84 for five (Vijay Hazare out for three).

Standards accommodating about 5,000 were packed to capacity to witness the two Russies resume Bombay's first innings against Baroda this morning. An early shock, however, awaited the visitors, for hardly had seven runs been added to the overnight score when Gul Mohamed dismissed Cooper for 62, Adhikari in the gully accepting a low catch (255-62). Cooper had played faultless cricket for two and a half hours for his valuable 62, and was as much responsible as Modi for Bombay's recovery after half the side had been out for only 112 runs. The sixth wicket partnership had added 143 runs.

Khot who came in next did not stay long; after he had scored a speedy 17 he was caught by Rajji off Amir Elahi at 287-7-17.

Modi had meanwhile raised his individual figure to 150 which included 16 fours. Palwankar played an exhilarating game with powerful drives and lovely hooks, and his first 40 runs collected in 35 minutes contained 9 from boundaries. He greeted his arrival by sending up 300 of the innings. Before long Modi carried the total to 350, Bombay having taken nearly seven hours for this. At 359 the teams adjourned for lunch, Modi then being 178 and Palwankar 44.

Twenty minutes after lunch Modi completed his double century—his second successive double century—and Baroda's first double-figure score in the Ranji trophy.

Modi took 427 minutes for his double century in which he took 18 fours. The other batsmen Palwankar, left-hander, played bright cricket and reached 70 which included 11 fours. When the score was 438, Palwankar lifted one of Gul Mohamed's bumpers and was caught by M. Amir Elahi (438-8-78). The eighth wicket partnership of Modi and Palwankar realised 141 runs.

After Elahi bowled Tarsapore neck and crop, Kore helped to add 23 runs to the total before he was l.b.w. to Vijay Hazare. Modi carried his bat untroubled 245, to score which he took nearly 8 hours. He hit 22 fours.

Press Emergency Act Must Be Repealed

"Bureaucrats Need Not Get Panicky & Run Amok"

ACTION ON NEWSPAPERS, VIOLATION OF DELHI AGREEMENT

Brelvi's Call To Proprietors: Plea For Fair Deal To Working Journalists

In view of the altered aspect of the war and the internal situation in the country, there is no further need for the Press Emergency and Prisons Protection Acts and the amendments to other normal and wartime press laws, said Mr. S. A. Brelvi in the course of his presidential address to the fourth session of the All-India Newspaper Editors' Conference at Calcutta on Saturday morning.

Breach Of Delhi Agreement

Referring to the orders against the "Amrit Bazar Patrika" and the "Leader" of Allahabad, and the "National Herald" of Lucknow, Mr. Brelvi characterised the action of the Magistrates as dishonourable tantamount to the violation of the Delhi and Bombay Agreements.

Fair Deal To Working Journalists

Making a strong plea for a fair deal to working journalists Mr. Brelvi hoped that newspaper proprietors "will not only implement the agreed proposals regarding Provident Fund and leave rules but will also deal promptly and generously with the questions of minimum salary, annual increment scale and payment to correspondents."

The following are excerpts from Mr. Brelvi's address:

"Though this conference was brought into being four years ago to meet a grave crisis that faced the Press in this country, it has come to stay and I have not the slightest doubt in my mind that not only will it continue to exist after the war but it will also have a great and increasingly useful role to play in the future in helping the Press in India to become one of the great forces contributing to the extension of the bounds of human freedom, knowledge, progress and happiness. By its very composition it belongs to no particular party. It seeks to achieve objects which every newspaper must consider as its own. It has a large membership and the number of its members is steadily increasing. May I take this opportunity of appealing to these newspapers which, owing to indifference or other reasons, have not yet joined this conference, to do so as soon as possible? This Conference has, during the brief period of its existence, become a great power. It can become a greater power for the service of the country and its Press if it continues to receive the active and loyal adherence and support of newspapers in the country."

NEWS CHARTER FOR WORLD

Referring to the proposal put forward by the American Society of Newspaper Editors for a news charter for the world, Mr. Brelvi said: "Nothing could be more welcome to us than this world movement for a guarantee of freedom of the press written into peace treaties in definite and unequivocal language. But bitter experience has taught us to beware of fine phrases which are not translated into deeds. Few countries have suffered in the past and still continue to suffer more than India from systematic and purposeful distortion, perversion and choking of news channels. Not only has India been grossly misrepresented abroad but she has also not known a genuinely free press at home. More than the free nations of the world in India have a vivid realization of the truth that peace among nations cannot be maintained unless true democracy is established in every part of the world and that true democracy itself cannot exist without these vital freedoms of which freedom of the Press is the most important."

TASK FOR INDIAN PRESS

For countries like India, a News Charter, even if embodied in peace treaties, will not be worth the paper on which it is written unless the peace treaties usher in the dissolution of imperialism as well as the destruction of Nazism and Fascism. The Press in India has thus to work both for its own freedom and that of the country. We stand, first and foremost, for the political freedom of India. We stand for freedom of the Press. We stand for the emancipation of the radio as well as all other channels of information from monopolistic control either of Government or private agencies.

While we shall co-operate with our American friends in the task they have set out to accomplish, we cannot forget that we have an urgent problem of our own to solve and we must insist that, in the meanwhile, the Press in India should be placed on the same footing as is the Press in Britain and in the United States."

REPEAL THEM

In the United States freedom of the Press is guaranteed by the First Amendment to the Constitution. The British Press is in fact as free as the Press in the U.S.A., though there are no positive statutory provisions guaranteeing such freedom. In our own country not only is freedom of the Press not guaranteed but it is also seriously restricted. The laws which fetter the freedom of the journalist are as formidable as they are numerous. It is true that the Press Act of 1926, which was repealed in 1922, but, unfortunately, not a few of its sinister provisions continue to be embedded in the Press Emergency Act and the Prisons Protection Act. On many occasions, the provisions of the Indian Penal and Criminal Procedure Codes and the Customs, Post Offices and Registration of Books Acts. The time has come when we should demand the immediate repeal of the Press Emergency Act and the Prisons Protection Act and the necessary amendment of the Penal and the Criminal Procedure Codes and other Acts so to make the Press Law in this country no more restrictive than is the Press Law in the U.S.A. or Great Britain."

D. I. E.

I have deliberately refrained from making a reference to the Defence of India Rules and the Press Instructions issued in pursuance of these rules. We recognize that, in times of war, freedom of the Press must be restricted so as to prevent the publication of news for carrying out the enemy and our agreement with the Government of India, known as the Delhi Agreement, is based on the recognition of this fact. We have made it plain that we cannot accept the Government's demand for the suppression of normal political activity in the name of war. Our complaint against the Government is that the Press will not be free under the powers given to them under the Defence of India Rules not strictly and exclusively for the purpose of suppressing news and views not palatable to them. The Defence of India Rules were promulgated five years ago and so were the Press Instructions based on them. Many of these rules are drastic enough to enable the Government to deal with any writings in the press which may be valuable to the enemy or are likely to impede war efforts and do not need a resort to the Press Emergency Act which must, therefore, be repealed immediately. But there are a number of these rules and instructions which in view of the altered aspect of the war and the internal situation in the country, have become either unnecessary or unduly restrictive of the legitimate functioning of the press. Similarly, the political situation in the country has so completely changed as to justify a revision of the Bombay resolution so as to leave the Press completely unfettered to ventilate legitimate grievances regarding, for instance, the treatment of political prisoners and detenus and the misuse of their powers by the police.

The revision of the Bombay resolution and the modification of Defence of India Rules and Press Instructions do not brook delay and may I suggest that this Conference should appoint a committee to suggest the directions in which the revision and modification may take place or ask the Standing Committee to deal with the matter as soon as possible. May I also express the hope that the members of the Central Legislature and other public organizations will give urgent attention to the need, in the interests of the country as well as the Press for the repeal of the Press Emergency and Prisons Protection Acts and the amendments to other normal and wartime press laws?

PRESS ADVISORY COMMITTEES

If we succeed in this attempt to make the Press in India as free as is the Press in Britain and the U.S.A., we shall have taken a very great step forward in achieving the second object of our Conference which is to safeguard the right of the Press in general and in particular the freedom of publication of news and comment. This and another object of our Conference, namely, representing the Press in its relations with Government, we have been so far seeking to achieve through the consultative machinery established by the Delhi Agreement. This machinery has been functioning in most provinces and you will be glad to know that, during the year, the Government of Bihar and the Government of Orissa also agreed to the establishment of Provincial Press Advisory Committees and their respective provinces and these committees have been formed. I trust both these Governments will see that the fullest possible use is made of these Committees to secure the harmonious working of the Delhi Agreement in their respective provinces. Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghose and Mr. W. C. Wordsworth were deputed by the Standing Committee to interview the Government of Orissa in connection with establishment of the Provincial Press Advisory Committee. They also met the representatives of the Orissa Press. The formation of the Orissa Provincial Press Advisory Committee is, in no small measure, due to their efforts and on your behalf I take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of these efforts. In the Punjab the consultative machinery has been more or less in a state of suspended animation. When a meeting of the Standing Committee in October last, an opportunity was given to the members of the Committee to have discussions with the Premier of the Punjab and his colleagues in the Ministry and also with some representatives of the Press. I am glad to inform you that, as a result of these discussions, there are hopeful prospects of satisfactory working of the consultative machinery in that province and that very soon the reconstituted Punjab Provincial Press Advisory Committee will begin work. In the West Frontier province, I had interviews with the Governor and the Chief Minister, both of whom expressed their agreement to the establishment of an advisory committee and I have every hope that this province, too, a committee will soon begin to function.

DELHI & BOMBAY AGREEMENTS

The establishment of the consultative machinery is one thing; its satisfactory working is, however, a different thing. Last year, as I have noted with regret that this machinery was not uniformly helpful in all provinces and that there were complaints from several parts of the country. The Press Advisory Committees were not consulted and that where they were consulted, they were not given sufficient justification and that if the press advisory system was to endure, there should be greater respect shown to the recommendations of the Committee by Government.

There are officials who hold a strange notion about the co-operation that we and the Government desire should exist between us. The Delhi and Bombay Agreements. They seem to think that the whole object of the consultative machinery is to harmonize relations between Government and the Press in order to promote war effort and they would like to neutralize the machinery which is to support war effort. Under the Delhi Agreement this Conference has certainly agreed that the Press will not impede the war effort which, however, is not the same thing as saying that it has undertaken to refrain from any criticism or distinction may be a fine one, but it is there and failure on the part of some officials to bear it in mind in the past and is likely to lead in the future to the violation of the Agreement.

PRE-CENSORSHIP

Unfortunately, the most flagrant violation of the Agreement between the Government and the Press was made by the Chief Commissioner of Delhi, the seat of the Government of India. In January last year the "Hindustan Times" published a report of a press conference held by Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, a member of the Working Committee. There was nothing in the report which was repugnant to the Delhi Agreement or the Bombay resolution. The Central Press Advisory Committee, which was consulted, held that no action was called for and yet orders of pre-censorship were served on these two papers. The obvious character of these orders was aggravated by subjecting comments also to pre-censorship. Nor was that all. The circumstances in which the Orders were passed suggested that press advice was obligatory. The Standing Committee, therefore, while demanding the immediate withdrawal of the orders, considered it necessary to state that pre-censorship is not obligatory on editors and its rejection by itself did not constitute an offence. The orders were allowed to continue for sometime and then withdrawn.

RESPECT THAT CONVENTION

The Government of the Central Provinces forfeited the security of the "Nagpur Times" and also ordered the prosecution of the Editors, Assistant

Editor and Publishers of that paper and the "Hindustan Times" without consulting the Press Advisory Committee. The action of the Government in prosecuting the Assistant Editor, who are not legally responsible for what is published in a newspaper, was most extraordinary and constituted a deplorable breach of the universally recognized convention of the journalistic profession that responsibility for any publication should be fixed only on the Editor, the Printer and the Publisher and not on any subordinate member of the staff.

Soon after the arrest of Gandhiji in 1942, the Government of Bombay took possession of the Navjivan Press where "Hindustan Times" was published and valuable old files of "Hindustan Times" and other important papers and documents were destroyed by a subordinate officer acting under Government instruction. The Standing Committee, at its meeting held at Karachi in January, having only a few days before received the Bombay Government narrating the circumstances which led to this act of vandalism, investigated it and asked Government that, in future, in no circumstances should records of newspapers be destroyed. It is reasonable that no Government, which has respect for the principles of public life, should refuse to

GROSS VIOLATION OF AGREEMENT

In October without consultation with the Provincial Press Advisory Committee an order was issued by the Allahabad District Magistrate and the "Amrit Bazar Patrika" and the "Leader" requiring these papers to submit all matters for pre-censorship to a sub-inspector of police. Under the Agreement between the Government of India and this Conference, the Government have, on their part, undertaken not to impose general orders of censorship on newspapers. The Allahabad order was a gross violation of this agreement, besides being an affront to the consultative machinery. It was also a violation of the Delhi Agreement in that it required the submission of matters for pre-censorship to a sub-inspector of police. The fact that this order was withdrawn within twenty-four hours is no guarantee against such stupid orders being issued by other officials. The Government of India take effective measures to prevent such stupid orders from running rampant. The Government of India issued instructions to the local Telegraph authorities to submit all Press telegrams to the Press Advisory Committee for approval.

"SENTRY" CASE

In April last year a terrible tragedy overtook Bombay as a result of explosions in the docks. The "Bombay SENTRY" party was protesting against what it regarded as misuse of censorship and partly for the approval of such instructions of its pages with blank columns with a caption. The Government of Bombay took a needlessly panicky view of this and ordered the suspension of the paper. Some days later, largely as a result of the intervention of the Government Press Advisory Committee, the order was cancelled. The "National Herald" of Lucknow suspended publication in 1942. Last year the Government of Bombay publication, but the Government of Sir Maurice Hallet, for reasons of their own, seem to have made the mistake of allowing the paper to be published. This is a most arbitrary and indefensible exercise of power on the part of the Government. The "National Herald", as a member of this Conference, is a party to the latter's protest against the Government. So long as the paper adheres to that Agreement Government have no right to suspend the paper. It is especially in view of the altered political situation in the country. In spite of the protest of the Standing Committee of this Conference the ban on Mr. Louis Fischer's articles still continues.

NEWSPRINT SITUATION

The newsprint situation, from all points of view, has improved considerably and stocks in increasing quantity are accumulating but, in proportion to this improvement, the action taken by the Government in fixing quotas of news print is needlessly halting and niggardly. The need for prudence in this matter is obvious but should not be carried further than the necessities of the situation require. Making a plea for a fair deal to working journalists, Mr. Brelvi said: Last year referring to the first object of our Conference, namely, preserving the high traditions and standards of journalism, I ventured to urge that if our traditions and standards were to be preserved at the highest levels, the Press must continually attract to its service men who, in their mental and moral qualities, represented the best of our country produced and that the Press could not attract such men to its service unless it made it worth their while to work for it. I pleaded

"C. K." DISFAVOURS 200-OVER INNINGS PLEA

"Four-Day Matches Should Make Ranji Cricket Livelier"

LT.-COL. C. K. NAVUDU, who is a member of the Board of Cricket Control's Improvement Sub-Committee, in an interview to the Associated Press, expressed himself wholly against the 200 over innings each for the participating teams in the Ranji Trophy Tournament which the Board is thinking of introducing with a view to brightening up Indian cricket. Himself a master of strokes even at the age of 50, and an advocate of first class batsmen whose uncommonly defensive performances encourage strokes, but not at the expense of sound and well established principles and technique of the game, he said: "India admittedly has several first class batsmen whose uncommonly defensive performances tend to fill up our teams with 11 sloggers and bowlers who would not care to take wickets but would be content with keeping runs down. What may be a blessing to a country bristling with first class cricketers, who have been playing for years, learning the game soundly may and shall prove to be a curse to a country like India, with its talent yet mostly undeveloped, by compelling them into a wrong road."

He added: "If we have been bored stiff by some of the batting we have witnessed some very quick scoring in the same tournament, especially with the advent of the four-day match, which is the real solution."

He believes that it will always remain with the provincial captains now that the time has been extended to four days, to see that the batting is not unbecomingly dogged and staid. A. P.

ANSWER TO STANDING COMMITTEE

The Standing Committee has come in for a good deal of strong criticism by Journalists' Associations all over the country on the question of minimum salary and the distinction made between the minimum between the English and the Indian language newspapers. In the discussion which the Suraramian Committee had with the Committees of the proper organizations, it was urged on behalf of the latter that, if the same minimum basic salary was accepted for both English and Indian language newspapers, a great many papers published in the Indian languages would find it very difficult to afford paying the minimum. Let me, on your behalf, assure the working journalists that the distinction made between the minimum salaries in English and Indian language newspapers is neither of the Editors' seeking nor accords with their desire and that they could bear the consequences of its immediate abolition. Let me also make it quite clear that the plea of inability to pay of a large number of Indian language newspapers was the sole consideration which weighed with the Standing Committee when it passed its resolution and nothing was further from the minds of its members than to suggest that the journalists working on the staffs of Indian language newspapers were in any way inferior to those working for English papers. Speaking for myself I have not the slightest doubt that the Indian language Press in the very near future will become the more flourishing and more influential and the more dominant member of our journalistic family. I am fully conscious that whatever improvement has been achieved, largely through the efforts of this Conference, in the economic position of the working journalists is much less than is due to them. As soon as it is possible the minimum salary must be increased, a time-scale will be introduced and the just claims of correspondents of newspapers must be satisfied. I hope newspapers will not only immediately implement the agreed proposals regarding provident fund and leave rules but will also deal promptly and generously with the questions of minimum salary, annual increment scale and payment to correspondents. Nor will I be at all odious of refusing to share, in an adequate measure, their present prosperity with men who have hitherto cheerfully contented themselves with very meagre salaries without the hope of a pension or the security of a Provident Fund. They must deal with these questions promptly and generously because the improvement of the standard of journalism in our country and the increasing efficiency of the Press as an instrument of national progress depend largely on whether the working journalists are paid adequately or not.

INDIAN LEADERS MUST BE FREE TO NEGOTIATE FOR SETTLEMENT

(From our Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 27. Addressing the Independence Day meeting arranged by the Committee of Indian Congressmen, Mr. W. G. Cove, Labour M. P., asserted he had not favoured the sending out of the All-Party Delegation to India. He added: "Don't be foolish to get mixed up with Conservatives. Don't trust them. Even one Conservative is enough to torpedo and sabotage your well-meant plans and wishes."

I know this from personal experience of Commons. We are suffering terribly from the present coalition with Conservatives. Leave them alone. Moreover we must demand the release of Pt. Nehru. Maulana Azad, Sardar Patel and other Congress leaders before anything about sending out a delegation."

Miss Vera Brittain revealed that, when she told her publisher that she had intended to write a book dealing with the work of Indian women, her publisher discouraged her saying "don't do anything of the kind. The book won't have any sale. There is no demand for any book on India."

Lord Strabolgi sent a message to the meeting: "I look forward to the time in the not distant future when Indians will be responsible for managing their own affairs. I trust this will be in close co-operation with British Commonwealth of Nations. If I had power to do it I would release Congress leaders immediately, and open negotiations for all-round peaceful settlement with all parties concerned in India, services, Indian soldiers and sailors. This war on all fronts has excited our admiration for settlement of Indian political problem which I do not believe will be solved in these days when we are fighting for freedom and independence of small nations, we should be prepared to extend the same freedom of Government to others and agree to release prisoners whom we have in detention. Their release is essential to their presence at the Round Table Conference at which an All-Party delegation from this country should also be represented. It is necessary for advancing the work of democracy as broad a basis as possible."

Certainly, the first act towards democratic settlement of the outstanding problems is that men should be free to negotiate as equals. This point has been made by Government spokesmen on the Greek affair. It is right that it should be applied all round."

ANOTHER 'REBUFF' FOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.

President Roosevelt today received his second big rebuff in 18 hours. The Federal Judge in Chicago has declared illegal the Army's seizure of 16 Montgomery Ward Chain Store Properties, which was ordered by the President last December. This followed swiftly on the objection by the Senatorial Committee of President Roosevelt's nomination of Mr. Henry Wallace as Secretary of Commerce.—Reuter.

"Independence Day" In Transvaal

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 27. The meeting of Indians of Johannesburg under the auspices of the Transvaal Indian Congress, passed a resolution on Friday night supporting the "inalienable right of India to her complete National Independence." This followed swiftly on the objection by the Senatorial Committee of President Roosevelt's nomination of Mr. Henry Wallace as Secretary of Commerce.—Reuter.
